

I oppose Sinclair Broadcasting's announcement that their stations should preempt their normal broadcasting to show an anti-Kerry documentary right before the election. (unless of course the exact amount of time at the same time were to be given to Kerry for a response).

This is the exact reason why media consolidation is a danger to our democratic society. A large company should not be able to control the airwaves of so many stations and dictate a political message. This is clearly not in the public's best interest.

Thank you.
